The Meat of Pain and Pleasure.
The nervous system, often suffers a diminution of vigor, and causes mental annoyance, and even positive disturbance, without disease in the sensorium itself. It acts as a mere reflector, in many cases, of action in the stomach, and consequently of incomplete assimilation of the food by the blood. This of course weakens it, in common with the rest of the tissues, and renders it less able to bear without suffering an ordinary strain that would make no impression upon strong nerves. To supply a deficit of strength, and remedy a superabundance of the nerves incident to a lack of vigor, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is far better adapted than any more nervous or simple tonic, since the obnoxious use, complete digestion, is the vigorous and early parent of nerve force and quietude. Malarial attacks, rheumatism, bowel, liver and kidney complaints succumb to the Bitters.

Ex-Congressman Fitch Says the Silver Men May Meet the Next President—He is Interviewed by a St. Louis Reporter.
The St. Louis Star-Sayings of the 24th inst. contains the following interview with ex-Congressman Fitch:
"It is possible for the Republicans to elect the President in 1892 without New York," said ex-Congressman Fitch at the Lindell Hotel last night to a Star-Sayings man.
Mr. Fitch is one of the delegates from Nevada to the Silver Convention to be held in this city the coming week.
"How's that?"
"Well, the States of Colorado, Nevada and Montana are silver States," said he, "and they will vote for a silver candidate. Colorado and Nevada are among the Republican States, and Montana is doubtful. The new States being admitted in the Union increases the number of votes in the Electoral College to 414, instead of 401, requiring a majority of 208 to elect. If the States that went Democratic in 1888 are counted on that side in 1892, and the States that went Republican do the same, and New York and Montana go Democratic, there would be an exact tie, because Washington and Alaska are safely Republican, and which would send the contest into the House."
"I think the importance of the silver States in the Presidential contest will be fully realized by both parties by the time the canvass begins. Of course the success of the mining interest is our vital question, and may be the turning question in the next National campaign."
"Unless one of the old parties advocate the complete remonetization of silver, it is probable that a third party—a silver party—may be formed. The bill denationalizing silver was never actually passed by Congress, but it was smuggled into the General Statute of 1873. It is the repeal of this act that we are struggling for."
"I am in favor of its unconditional repeal and the unlimited coinage of silver, thereby not only affording a relief to the mining States, but to the wheat growers and cotton planters as well."
"The remonetization of silver would give new vigor to the silver producing States. There are hundreds of mines in Colorado, Nevada and Montana which produce a low grade ore which are now idle, but which could be worked at a profit of 35 per cent if silver were remonetized, making the National currency more easy, and giving employment to thousands of men. This is the reason that the silver States would vote a silver ticket in preference to party fealty, and the party that advocates our cause will get our votes. The three States mentioned can be relied upon to go with the next silver party regardless of questions at issue."
"We feel grateful to St. Louis for taking up the interests of our States, and assisting in pushing the Silver Convention to the front. The benefits which will accrue to us on this account will not be small. To show you how important our State is, let me say that the State of Nevada last year produced $12,000,000 of bullion—$8,500,000 of silver, and $4,500,000 of gold. Colorado and Montana each produced a little more than this; but all this will be nearly doubled if silver is remonetized."
"The present coinage of silver by the United States is $2,000,000 per month, which yields a profit of $9,000,000. The bill to double this coinage will afford us some relief, but would not be sufficient, and would only increase the Government profits an additional $9,000,000. What we want, and what will come to pass in a very few years, is the unlimited coinage of silver and restoration to a basis with gold."
"It is said that your State could not maintain its organization if the mining interests should collapse."
"That is not only an untruth, but a slander. The cattle industry is growing rapidly; we have as fine a grazing country as there is in the United States, and the agricultural interests are developing steadily. We now have over $32,000,000 of taxable property, and that is on only the half valuation; and our taxes were lower by 25 to 40 per cent than the State of California. The new irrigation surveys are doing a great deal for the State in supplying water, and there are large tracts of rich land, heretofore unused, which are thus being made productive, and are being taken up as fast as they can be reclaimed. The agriculture of Nevada will be sufficient to maintain the State alone within three or four years more."

"How about the Senatorial contest next year, are you in the swim?"
"I think the weather in St. Louis, from what I can learn, is unusually fine."

Eighteen Men and Boys Arrested.

DEAD BODIES COMING ASHORE.

Four Girls Meet a Horrible Death.

Finding a Keg of Powder they Apply a Match.

Rebuttal and Sub-Rebuttal Trial money.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—At the opening of the Cronin trial this morning the State called one witness in rebuttal of Burke's alibi, and then the defense began a sub-rebuttal to strengthen its case. Nothing of material interest was developed.

A local news bureau has a new sensation in the Cronin case. Detective Flinn, who locked Dan Coughlin up at the time of his arrest, informed Chief Hubbard to-day, as he had just thought of it, that Coughlin gave him two knives on that occasion, which, at Coughlin's request, he locked up in a safety vault. These knives were secured to-day and taken to one of Dr. Cronin's intimate friends, who identified them as the dead man's property. When questioned about them this morning, Chief Hubbard admitted the truth and declared that he believed it was Clann-na-Gael influence which induced Flinn to suppress the matter until too late to use as evidence in the pending trial.

A Bad Looking Affair.

Whitewater, Wis., Nov. 29.—Eighteen men and boys connected with the Olsson lynching have been arrested on a charge of riot. Six have left the State and others, it is thought, will be arrested to-day. Many of the best families in the town of Preston are implicated. Four boys in jail here have made a confession, detailing all the incidents of the hanging, and making public the names of all connected with the affair.

Just as It Should be.

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 29.—William F. Sartelle, a performer in a dime museum, last night was performing a trick with a rifle which he apparently loads with leaden bullets and requests some one to shoot at him, apparently catching the bullet in his mouth. He tried to substitute the pasteboard bullet, and William Flannigan, who fired the gun, shot Sartelle dead.

A Stage Robbery.

Redding, Cal., Nov. 29.—The Redding and Weaverville stage was robbed a few miles from here last night by a highwayman armed with a shotgun and a pistol. He compelled the driver to throw out Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box and the mail pouches. There was but little money in the express box, but the robber secured considerable registered mail.

Attempted Assassination Felled.

Pasadena, Nov. 29.—During the session of the lower House of the Hungarian Diet to-day, Baron Kass informed the Chamber that the opposition had discovered and frustrated a plot to assassinate Herr Tisza, the Hungarian Prime Minister.

A Terrible Calamity.

Choked to Death.

GUELPH, Ont., Nov. 29.—W. H. Harvey, who in March last murdered his wife and two daughters, was hanged this morning. The execution was one of the worst pieces of bungling ever witnessed. The weight which lifted the body was not heavy enough, and the scaffold was not high enough to give sufficient rebound to break the neck of the condemned man, and his struggles and contortions as he slowly strangled to death were frightful. To add to the horror the knot slipped and the gurgling in the man's throat as his life was being choked out could be heard outside the jail walls.

THE BEEF MARKET.

Prices Lower Than for Twenty Years—Mutton Scarce.
The San Francisco Post contains the following on the beef market, which reports a "leading butcher" as saying things that the facts do not bear him out in. He says that no one knows about the condition of things in Nevada, but he believes there are plenty of cattle here to supply the city market. Just let him keep on thinking so, for there are not over 12,000 or 15,000 head being fed in the whole State—not enough to feed San Francisco alone for a month.

The attempt made by a number of interior papers to create a meat scare by announcing that there is a scarcity of cattle this year has brought forth a denial from the cattle men and wholesale butchers in San Francisco. In referring to the present condition of the market a representative of a leading butcher firm stated to a Post reporter that there was no reason for apprehending a rise in beef. The market is lower now by half a cent than it has been for the past twenty-five years. Reports have been coming to this city from time to time that cattle in the neighboring States have been dying by the thousands, owing to lack of grass and other food. Now the truth of the matter is no one knows the exact condition of the cattle in Nevada, but we believe that there are plenty of cattle in this market. Discouraging reports have also come from Arizona, but it is a well known fact among the wholesale butchers that cattle are plentiful there. It is true that freight rates are high from there to this city, being about 2 1/2 cents, but the cattle raisers are satisfied with a two-cent profit, and will be only too glad to ship all we want. The freight from Nevada averages about one cent, giving that State a good chance in competing. Beef usually sells for 7 cents, but it is now quoted at 6 1/2 cents.

The numerous bogus reports going around about the scarcity of beef are probably started from the fact that mutton has become scarce and prices have gone up to seven cents. There is no good fat mutton in the market to speak of. The recent losses of sheep in the southern counties is the main cause of this, and another cause is the present scarcity of grass between here and the ranches. "It was the custom for owners of herds to drive their sheep to market, depending upon the grass along the route. Of late, however, this has all disappeared. Every farmer who has a small band of cattle turns them loose on the highways to graze upon the grass on either side, and by the time the herds arrive en route the grass has been consumed. This fact has necessitated their shipping the sheep. The scarcity caused by the recent storms, when Los Angeles county lost nearly 50,000 head, and a freight rate to be considered, has naturally affected the market. I cannot, however, see why any flurry should be made over the probable scarcity of beef."

State Teachers' Institute.

The exercises Wednesday evening were held in National Guard Hall, which will comfortably seat 800 people. Chairs were put in every available place, and standing room was at a premium before the opening exercises.

Misses Penrose and Craze sang a vocal duet, "In Gathering Roses Look Out for the Thorn," which was received with hearty applause.

Professor Story of the Gold Hill schools then gave an able address, which was well received.

Miss Mary R. Barrett then recited in a very pretty and taking way the rhyming version of "Pyramus and Thisbe." The audience, not being satisfied with one, brought Miss Barrett on the stage again and she recited "Little Joe."

Miss Kate N. T. Tupper of the Normal Department of the State University then spoke on "The School and State."

Miss Tupper was frequently interrupted with applause, and although quite late when she took the platform, the audience was held for over an hour.

The exercises closed for the evening with a piano solo by Miss Michaelson. On Thanksgiving Day 43 new members were enrolled. The election of officers for the ensuing year: Superintendent Doye was elected President, Orris Ring, Treasurer, Robert Lewers, Secretary. With the privilege of choosing a Lady Assistant Secretary. The Board of Directors elected were as follows: Miss Kate Tupper for two years, Miss Minnie Michaelson for three years, and holding over for one year. The Institute then adjourned.

EASTERN FIRES.

Losses in Lynn Estimated $10,000,000.

LIVES LOST IN THE BOSTON FIRE.

A New Sensation in the Cronin Case.

The Silver Convention Still in Session.

Missing Firemen.

Boston, Nov. 29.—Two more firemen are reported missing, and are believed to be in the ruins of the Brown-Durfee building.

The aggregate loss of the fire insurance companies as is reported by the agents, show a total loss of $5,500,000.

New York, Nov. 29.—A Boston dispatch says yesterday's fire was caused by the crossing of an electric light wire and the wire of the Electric Time Company. All the clocks on the Electric Time Company's line stopped at 6:48, the wires being burned out at their connections with the clocks, causing incipient flames in many places, including the City Hall.

Boston, Nov. 29.—The burned district to-day presents a scene of desolation. A portion of the fire department spent the entire night and this forenoon quenching the remnants of the big blaze, while a cordon of weary officers still guarded the ruins. Incoming trains were packed with sightseers. The walls of some of the gutted buildings are in a very dangerous condition. Gangs of men have already begun to tear away the debris. Nearly all of the burned-out merchants have made arrangements to occupy other stores at once. Among the spectators at the ruins to-day were 500 girls, who were employed by Crowell's book bindery, many of whom were the main support of families, and who now have no means of support.

The Lynn Losses.

Boston, Nov. 29.—The largest bankers look for no bad financial effect from the recent fires. The most of the insurance losses are by English companies, and, as in the case of the Lynn fires, the losses are comparatively small in the home offices and well distributed. Individual losses as a rule are abundantly able to bear the losses. John G. Paige's agency estimates the losses at $10,000,000.

The Silver Convention.

St. Louis, Nov. 29.—The National Committee provided for by the Silver Convention elected General A. J. Warner of Ohio as Chairman and Lee Candall of Virginia as Secretary. The Chairman is authorized to name the time and place for the holding of the next Convention, and to appoint a committee of nine to conduct the silver campaign.

Dishonest Officials.

Boston, Nov. 29.—Aldermen Callen, Dougherty and Manesse and detectives Bander, Doyle, Nagle and Bender, convicted of a conspiracy to defraud, in accepting bribes to settle illegal liquor selling cases, were sentenced this morning to terms ranging from six months to three years.

Another Eastern Fire.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 29.—There was a fire at midnight in one of the mills of the Hartford Carpet Company at Thompsonville. It was used as a storage warehouse. Loss, $180,000; insurance, $175,000.

Reed's Pennsylvania Vote.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—At a meeting of the Pennsylvania Republican delegation this afternoon a vote was taken for Speaker. Reed received 14 and McKinley 5 votes.

To the Public.

Notice is hereby given that the two costumes rented by William Nichols, the carpenter, for the masquerade ball cost only the sum of $18, and not $45, as reported by him all over town and thereby stopped people from taking costumes of me, who were frightened at the supposed high prices. My prices are always reasonable and no complaint is ever made.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

THE Los Angeles boom that was in now the theme of the editorials down south. The wisest and best thing said on this whole boom subject for many a day has just appeared in the Los Angeles Tribune. The editor advises people to pull off their coats and go to work, each to make the best of his opportunities, to fulfill "his destiny of delving."

The editor recognizes the fact that it is of no value for people to stand on the street corners with their hands in their pockets watching and praying for the good old days of speculation to return. He says with equal wisdom that advertising the climate will prove no more effective than watching for booms. Among the sentences in this strong article are the following:

"The future prosperity of Southern California depends upon the policy that shall be pursued by the people. The labor of at least five years has to a great extent been lost—three in speculative energy and two in contemplating results and hoping that the boom would reappear. The speculative period proved an evil to the country in many ways, but not unaccompanied with good. It gave us railroads, hotels, dwelling houses, business buildings, water development, and many other things that will be useful, but harm resulted in disparaging and discouraging a spirit of industry and thrift."

A NEW YORK paper says that some wealthy women of that city have contributed a fund for the establishment of a school for the training of respectable young women as nurses. This form of charity produces the best results. It is better to teach young women how to earn a living than to support them in idleness. There is work of one kind and another suitable for girls if they only know how to do it. But they are taught everything except how to do the work that will always command reasonable wages. Household service of one form or another is better, more healthful and more remunerative employment than factories and shops. When girls are trained to the various branches of household service there will be less complaint of starvation wages in the factories and shops.

THE New York system of dispatching criminals by electricity called electrocution, will doubtless prove popular with everybody except those who try it, if it works well.

No pilgrim who leaves these shores of time will make even a foot-print in the sands or give one hint as to the success or failure of the plan.

The scheme is now said to be perfect. The condemned prisoner will be dressed in such a manner that the parts of his body which touch the deadly current will be prepared by acids so as to overcome all resistance, and in less time than the nerves can convey sensations to their master, the brain, the current of electricity will have ruptured the brain itself.

THE TRAPPIST MONKS.

Description of the Kentucky Home of the Silent Brotherhood.

An illustrated article by James Lane Allen, in the Century, describes the Trappist monastery in Kentucky. The following is an account of the outdoor occupation of the brothers: "The community do not till the farm. The greater part of their land is occupied by tenant farmers, and what they reserve for their own use is cultivated by the so-called 'family brothers,' who, it is due to say, have no families, but live as celibates on the abbey domain, subject to the abbot's authority, without being members of the order. The monks, however, do labor in the simple gardens, orchards and vineyard from which they derive their sustenance, in the steam saw-mill and grain-mill, in the dairy and cheese factory. Thus picturesque engaged, one may find them in autumn; monks gathering apples and making barrel after barrel of pungent cider, which is stored away in the vast cellar as their only beverage except water; monks repairing the shingle roof of a stable; monks feeding the huge swine which they produce for the board of their guests; or the fluttering multitude of chickens, from the eggs and young of which they derive a slender revenue; monks grouped in the garden around a green and purple heap of turnips, to be stored up as a winter relish of no mean distinction.

"Amidst such scenes one forgets all else while enjoying the wealth of freshness of artistic effects. What a picture is this young Belgian cheese-maker, his sleeves rolled up above the elbows of his brawny arms, his great pinkish hands buried in the golden curds, the cap of his serge cloak falling back and showing his closely-clipped brown hair, blue eyes and clear delicate skin! Or this Australian ex-farmer, as he stands by the hopper of grist or lays on his shoulder a bag of flour for the coarse brown bread of the monks. Or this dark old French opera-singer who struts his brief hour on many a European stage, but whose hobbies around all hours in his cowl and blanched with age, to pick up a handful of garlic. Or this athletic, superbly-formed young Irishman, thrusting a great iron rod into the glowing coals of the saw-mill furnace. Or this slender Swiss, your attendant in the refectory, with great keys dangling from his leathern cincture, who stands by with folded hands and bowed head while you are eating the pagan meal he has prepared, and prays that you may be forgiven for enjoying it.

"From various countries of the Old World men find their way into the Abbey of Gettemann, but among them are no Americans. Repeatedly the latter have made the experiment, and have always failed to persevere up to the final consecration of the white cowl. The fairest warning is given to the postulant. He is made to understand the entire extent of the obligation he has assumed, and only after passing through a novitiate, conducted at the discretion of the Abbot, is he admitted to the vows that must be kept unbroken till death."

COSTLY FLY-PAPER.

A Servant Girl Who Was Too Mindful of Her Mistress' Comfort.

Apparently, says the "Topical Talker" of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, it is possible for a servant-girl to be too careful and mindful of her employer's comfort. The other day a lady of the east end came into town to parley with her dress-maker. The latter was erecting for the east end lady a sumptuous dress of white India silk—an evening dress of large value and beauty, to be used, I may add, to paralyze the upper ten at Saratoga. It is my delectable privilege to know that the dress is, in masculine language, "a stunner."

While she was busying herself at the dress-maker's and going through the ecstatic agonies of having the dress tried on, her maid in the east end mansion was spending all her energies in a praiseworthy attempt to make her mistress' room cool and comfortable.

For, be it known, this east end matron was heartily attached to the sanitary habit of taking an hour or two of sleep in the afternoon.

Among the precautions that the maid took to render the sleeping chamber worthy of its name was to expel all the flies. You know how tiresome they are these warm days when you are trying to steal into the green garden of sleep. To insure the absence of these tiny tormentors by the time the lady of the house returned from town, the maid spread a large fly paper of the stickiest kind on the bed. Then, having closed the window-shutters and the door, the maid retired to the kitchen.

Shortly afterward the lady arrived from town, hot, dusty and eager for coolness and a little nap. She had brought the precious robe of delicate white India silk with her, and although she was sleepy and fatigued, as I have said, she must needs have another look at the dress before lying down.

She took the dress from its case of paper and box, and flung it open at length upon the bed. Then she went to the window and opened the shutters. The light poured in upon the room, the bed and the glossy silk dress. She stood enraptured!

Then she lifted the dress and was at first astonished and then dismayed to discover that adhering to the tournure was a broad, yellow sheet of fly paper.

Desolation and horror! It cost $9.50 exactly to remove the stain. At that price, fly-paper and immunity from flies seems a little dear. Doesn't it?

A Unique Bank Bill.
A. M. Craig, of Southington, Conn., has a curiosity in the shape of a bank note, on one side of which is a promise to pay $10 and on the reverse $30. In 1861 among the notes made by the Government for the Second National Bank of Springfield, Mass., there was an error in printing one sheet of three bills, and they were signed and paid out, first to the town and then to the fire department and then to the merchants. The error was, of course, at once discovered and the bills called in. Two of the number were found and destroyed, but the third was lost. Mr. Craig, not long ago, was shown some curiosities, among them this bill. He made an offer for it which was accepted. He has already been offered over $100 for it by curiosity seekers.

C. W. BOOTON—OPERA HOUSE DRY GOODS STORE.

THE

DRY GOODS STORE.

Fall * Announcements!

IT IS NOW GENERALLY CONCEDED BY MEN OF SCIENCE who attend to all the weather experiment stations on this coast that this locality in particular is going to be very cold this winter. In consequence of these indications,

C. W. BOOTON

Went to San Francisco and spent the past two weeks purchasing a

Stock of Fall and Winter Goods,

The giganticness of which cannot be fully realized in any way but by calling to see it at the OPERA HOUSE DRY GOODS STORE, and will only say that the

Prices at which he intends to sell his new stock will be unprecedented in the history of dry goods in Reno, as "Quick Sales and Small Profits" is his motto in business.

To enumerate his stock and give it entire justice he should have all the columns of a newspaper devoted to his advertisement only, but as he cannot get any more room in the columns of this paper, he will only enumerate some of his special heavy importations. First—His stock of

Men's Underwear

At the following prices, note them:

20 dozen of men's white merino shirts and drawers at 35c each, regular price, 75 cents.

A fine line of black corkscrew suits at $20.00. A fine line of mixed English cheviot suits at $18.00. A very fine line of black corkscrew suits at $12.50 a suit. The usual price asked for these goods in the city is $17.00

In the Dress Goods Department

He has added a fine and well-selected stock of all the leading shades of French armures, French brocades and English chevots, which are offered at prices that defy competition.

Calicoes and Gingham

In Endless Variety.

Having purchased the above goods for CASH ONLY, is a sure guarantee that he can sell goods at a lower price than any house that purchases goods on long time.

JOTTINGS.

Those thinking of making holiday presents of either watches or jewelry, had better not fail to examine the stock of Richard Herz.
There is nothing in the line of either liquors or wines that cannot be had at J. J. Becker's Chicago Saloon; also a daily hot lunch neatly served.
Fresh fish, oranges, lemons, meals of all kinds, New Orleans molasses and the best and freshest of groceries and provisions at W. T. Craig's.
Thanksgiving is over, but E. C. Leadbetter has a few turkeys and chickens left that are cooked. He also has a new brand of sausages.
J. F. Aitken is still supplying all corners with the best dry firewood, delivered anywhere in the town, and is also selling the best hard coal at $12 50 per ton.
Don't forget that George Becker's Granite Saloon is where you will always find his peerless Pacific and Fredericksburg beer and a daily hot-soup lunch.
C. A. Thurston carries a full assortment of the best pocket cutlery, pen and pencil tablets of all sizes, the best drawing paper and a complete line of blank books.
There is nothing in the line of fresh, salt or manufactured meats that cannot be had at John Frazier's Virginia street market. All purchases neatly cut and promptly delivered.
Every passenger train coming into Reno from any direction is always met by that elegant easy-riding Riverside Hotel bus which conveys guests and their baggage free of charge.
Bad weather does not spoil good wood. By having orders with J. M. Fulton, at the N. & C. R. depot, he will have delivered at your home the very best hickory, oak or pine wood at dry weather prices.
If you are looking for the finest cigar you ever placed between your teeth, sample in being retailed by C. J. Brookings. Try a pair of his scissors or shears, every pair of which is warranted by both manufacturer and dealer.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Dalbridge, Munday Esq., County Atty., Clay Co., Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother, was also very low with Malaria Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by the timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilkison of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all dysentery, Liver and Stomach disorders stands unequalled. Price, 50c and $1.00. Hodgekin's.

Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than those of sickness. The young mother vividly remembers, that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of the croup, and in turn administered it to her own offspring and always with the best success. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

The New Discovery.
You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. You have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold, or any throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottle free at J. J. Hodgekin's.

There is but little, if any danger from whooping cough, when the cough is kept loose and expectation easy, which can always be done by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger in giving it to children as it contains no injurious substance. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.
Read 50-cent ad. of pasture for horses.

Only 10 names on the Carson delinquent tax list.

There was a Thanksgiving turkey shoot at Huffaker's yesterday.

O. Sessions has an estray steer advertised in the 50-cent column.

Twenty cars of cattle for Horn & Chapman were unloaded here yesterday morning to be fed and rested and passed west this morning.

It is estimated that there were consumed yesterday 12,000 pounds of turkey in Reno, to say nothing about the chicken pot and mince pies.

Thanksgiving Day passed off quietly in Reno. All the stores and the banks closed up early in the day and the people went to their homes. The churches were well attended.

A MEAN TRICK.

Somebody Appropriated Parson Davis' Thanksgiving Turkey.

Parson Davis of Carson was on the warpath yesterday all day, and it is not safe even now to mention turkey to him. It seems the good old gentleman had provided a turkey—big and fat, and a hen—to eat on Thanksgiving Day. He hung the fowl in his woodshed, where some miserable sneak-thief found and appropriated it to his own use. The turkey hung in the same woodshed which his son Sam built and then nailed himself up in several years ago, and was missed by the Parson until it was time to prepare the bird for dinner yesterday. Guests had been invited to partake of the feast, and when they began to assemble the Parson was nearly frantic, for he had been down town and gone the round of the markets, but not a turkey could he find. The old gentleman made all sorts of excuses for the dinner without the turkey, which his guests reluctantly accepted, and made a dinner on cranberry sauce and mince pie—but minus the turkey.

A Great Improvement.

Last Sunday the Fire Department tested the "Perfection Nozzle and Holder," for which C. A. Bragg is State agent. It gave entire satisfaction, and is a great improvement on the old nozzle, as one man can direct a stream that it would take four men to handle the old way.

Such is the name of a new firm of butchers, who are prepared to supply everybody with the best of beef, pork, mutton and veal at the cheapest rate. As the boys are well and favorably known they will no doubt get a large share of public patronage.

A CALIFORNIA SENSATION.

It is reported that the sales of the "California Remedy," Jorg's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, have grown within a few months till they are now really sensational. The way the fame of this production has spread is simply marvelous.

Six months ago it was unknown. To-day it is all over the country. It is authoritatively stated that they have been actually giving it away in San Francisco to people afflicted with dyspepsia, sick headaches, indigestion and liver troubles, not to be paid for unless it cured. Such a fact test is so startlingly convincing as to be almost sensational. It is stated that two of the active principles of the new remedy belong to the vegetable kingdom of California and are so well known to us all under common names that it would surprise us if told them. They are not surprised at anything Californian, and this recent discovery of the new medicinal virtues of its vegetable kingdom is but another instance of the astonishing possibilities of a soil and climate so pure.
